

FICKLE PICKLE PROTOCOL: 2019

The Fickle Pickle Restaurant is one of RFAA's longest-running and most POPULAR venues. Because of the building's configuration, it is a challenge to hang each show. To ensure that ALL of our members have a fair opportunity to benefit from showing their work at this great venue

PLEASE CAREFULLY READ AND COMPLY WITH THE FOLLOWING PROCEDURES

TWO ENTRIES MAXIMUM PER ARTIST

- Registered artworks are accepted on the change-out day on a first come, first served basis, and must comply with size and venue requirements.
- The Venue Chair will accept registered art until all wall space is allotted. At that time, no more art will be accepted even when an application was submitted in writing before the registration deadline.

SUBJECT MATTER

No theme, but the Restaurant Owner requests no art featuring people.

CHANGE OUT

1. Artists will be notified which paintings to bring to The Fickle Pickle, between 4PM and 5PM only, on the change-out dates. Artists must sign in their new work, and a curator will sign out and return any previous work. Once art has been signed in and out, artists are requested to leave the premises promptly.
2. Members may not hang their own work or choose a space. All art will be hung by designated helpers under the Venue Chair's supervision. The final decision to hang a work or not rests with the Venue Chair.
3. The Restaurant Owner may decide to rearrange some pictures, so wait a couple of days before visiting to see the display. When you do visit, stay and enjoy some of the restaurant's great food!

Thank you for your cooperation.
